FLORIST

Supplier Information

A relaxed little guide to creating beautiful flowers at Moonacre - with the practical bits covered too.

ONE LITTLE PRACTICAL NOTE

Please plan for setup and collection.

Moonacre is run by a small on-site team, so we don't have spare hands for moving, taking down or disposing of floral displays. Please simply build collection and removal into your quote and arrangements with the couple.

Bring the flowers. Make it gorgeous. We cannot wait to see what you create.

A FEW SIMPLE THINGS

Flowers at Moonacre

We love seeing what florists create at Moonacre. The venue is intentionally relaxed and flexible, so you're welcome to make the spaces your own. These few practical notes just help everything run smoothly for you, the couple and our team.

A quick note about our team

Our on-site team is deliberately small and focused on running the venue. We aren't able to provide lifting, relocation or pack-down for supplier displays, so please make sure this is included in your plan.

01

Setup & movement

- You're welcome to arrive and get creative. Florists are responsible for unloading, installing and positioning their own flowers and displays.
- If a display is being moved from the ceremony to another area later in the day, please arrange this with the couple in advance and make sure somebody has been allocated to move it.
- For larger arches, urns, meadows or plinths, please bring enough hands to move everything safely.

02

Fixings

- We want you to be able to dress the space without leaving a trace. Fixings must be temporary and must not damage the marquee or venue structures.
- Safety pins are absolutely fine.
- Please avoid nails, screws, staples or adhesives that may mark or damage surfaces. If you're unsure about a fixing point, just ask us first.

03

After the celebration

- Florists are responsible for taking down and collecting their displays after the event.
- If you're not collecting on the wedding night, no problem - simply factor a next-day return into your quote and arrange this with the couple.
- Please let us know any next-day collection time in advance so we know when to expect you.

04

Flowers & waste

- Please take all flowers, foliage, floral foam, wire, tape, packaging, containers and other florist waste away with you.
- If the couple is keeping flowers or arrangements, please make sure they know what still needs to be removed from site.
- Take care with water and buckets, and clean up any spills as you go.

IF WE DO NEED TO STEP IN

If arrangements haven't been made and Moonacre has to move, dismantle, store or dispose of displays or waste, we may need to charge for the additional staff time and disposal involved.

That's really it - make it beautiful, leave us as you found us, and enjoy the day.
